Bill To Draft 18-Year-Olds Is Now In House

Measure Passes In Senate 79 To 5; House Battle Seen

WASHINGTON, March 10. (INS)—The draft bill to call 18-year-olds to the colors went to the House with hearty Senate approval today and landed on a powderkeg smoldering with the fight to require congressional approval of U.S. troop commitments to Europe.

Democrats and Republicans in the lower chamber are choosing up sides over a GOP-sponsored plan to wed the control on troop shipments to the new draft and universal training legislation

In Key West, Fla., a spokesman for vacationing President Truman said he regards Senate efforts to limit the numerical strength of troops sent to Europe as a severe blow to United States foreign policy.

The Senate, which approved the new service bill by a thumping 79 to five vote yesterday, has thus far received proposals of control on troop movements only in resolution form, which would not have the force of law. Prior to the GOP move, this was the case in the

HEADLINE FOR DREAMERS

A radio "forum" recently asked its listeners what headilne they would most like to read in the next day's newspaper. A sizable number said something like this: "Russians Revolt-Overthrow Communism."

Many observers are convinced that a majority of the people of Russia would vote against communism in a free election. Nowhere in the world where the voting is by genuinely secret ballot has communism ever won a majority.

But the men in the Kremlin know that, and they have of half a million men, commanded gone to extremes in eliminating any chance of a successful largely by Russians. uprising by force of arms. Ambassador Bedell Smith, in Moscow after the war, found himself facing the same bad manners and conspiratorial unpleasantness reported by Neill S. Brown as minister to Russia in the 1850s.

So it is safe to predict that if communism were overthrown for good in Russia, the U.S. would still have trouble with Russian imperialism. The task of containing Russia might be made easier if the Kremlin lost the support of Communist traitors in Washington, but the land of the steppes would still be a tough nut to crack. It is dangerous oversimplification to regard communism alone as the enemy.

It is pleasant to dream of a revolution in Russia that would solve all problems. But there are better headlines to President Truman's seizure of files of letters written by the child's demeanor and other congressmen concerning loans didn't help soothe Congress, and it may even backfire on the chief executive who termed the present investigation "asinine."

Mr. Truman's reorganization plan to put the RFC under children and fostering a wholeone man instead of the present five-member board has a good chance of winning congressional approval.

But congressmen's feelings being what they are, there's and quality of guests who come to a possibility that the legislators may go even further and attempt to wipe out the RFC entirely. This suggestion has already been advanced by Senator Charles W. Tobey (R), New choice to guests who will enhance Hampshire.

In any case, no one is going to jail as a result of the investigation. It all boils down to the fact that reforms of the RFC-and nothing else-will result from the current head-

If one branch of the government can round up criminals have in this direction in relation and make them pay what they owe in taxes, why cannot another department move in and punish them for their criminal activities? That question has never been answered. Convictions in the past have all been for failure to pay income taxes, ways are concerned with the child never for the violation of criminal laws.

It may be unfair to say the government is more interested ually it is the child between two in getting the revenue than in putting an end to its source. At least one department is more concerned over obtaining the barrassment is more painful than that isn't the exact point that we intended to bring to mind. revenue than another branch of government is in putting known criminals in jail.

There have been charges, substantiated by much evidence, that illegal gambling interests have some sort of immunity from criminal prosecution. Otherwise they would not flourish throughout the nation, and collect the enormous sum of $10,000,000,000 from the public. As one writer describes the situation a gambler must pay his debt to the government but never to society.

rumors are certainly being along by Taft's enemies, this goes even further. It is reported that ing spoken out according to the in a Taft cabinet McCarthy would dictates of her New England conbe attorney general.

As proof of the alliance Mc-Carthy's action in bumping Sen-ator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine off an important Senate investigating committee is cited. It was Mrs. Smith who last June issued a resolution of conscience pointing to the tragic lack of leadership in both the legislative and executive branches of government and protested the technique of the smear and the lie. This was signed by six other Republican Senators.

It is debatable whether Mc-Carthy had the right to remove Mrs. Smith from the investigating committee. Certainly he violated procedure by not giving her prior notice. At the same time she was removed from the Republican policy committee although she had served only two years. That occurred in a move in which all members were replaced although the report is that Mrs. Smith was the real target

Mrs. Roosevelt reported this in her column to support the "ru-mors" of a Taft-McCarthy alliance. When a Minneapolis editor called She had heroism plus but didn't this to Taft's attention, his office replied with a statement that in-

Pay Up Pal! Don't Holler

The unhappy moment has rolled around again for the annual dose of Gallico's Income Tax Soothing Syrup designed to cushion the system against the fatal drain of green leucocytes or Folding Money from the circulation of the individual.

And what I am saying to you this year as your Uncle Samuel prepares to apply his out-size super-strength Little Giant suction vacuum pump to your bank account and you look back with regret and no little anger as well to the booberies that were perpetrated at the close of World War II and for which reason you are paying higher taxes today—would you have done it any better if you had been in charge on the day the Germans and later the Japanese folded up and hollered Uncle?

Would You Have Done Better

Would you have turned a deaf ear to the cries of "Bring the boys back home!"? To have kept the boys over there once the shooting was over called for vision, statesmanship and cast-iron nerve. Have you got it? Have I? Has anyone?

The administration made so many mistakes all along the line that it isn't easy to settle on any one that leads us directly to the fix we are in today, but that business of bringing the boys home and disbanding our Army, Navy and Air Force sure was one of the big ones. Yipe! How Bright Was I?

Let's see how bright I was at War's End. Harry announced that gasoline rationing was off, and all other rationing too. Did I sit down and write a sober, thoughtful letter in this vein: "Dear Mr. President: n view of the amount of our national wealth we have burned and shot away and the economic dislocation due to war as well as the coming needs of the stricken countries, I believe that we should retain all forms of rationing until not only we but the world is once more back on a sound economic footing, and I am prepared to make further sacrifices so that the people who have suffered during the war may be quickly rehabilitated, fed and given jobs so that there will be less chance for Communism"

Withstand Counter-Assaults The veteran U.S. 24th Division withstood four Chinese Red counter-assaults Friday night although about midnight they lost high ground north of Okchon, a Pukhan valley town 26 miles east of Seoul. The high ground was regained by the Americans in a spirited attack Saturday morning. On the right flank of the 24th Division, the American First Cavalry entered the crossroads village of Yondogwon, seven and a half miles southwest of Hongchon. The lightning fast mechanized cavalry thrust caught the Reds off guard and the enemy, in full flight, left behind huge stockpiles of rifles, machine guns and mortars.

Farther east the Marines report-ed they "decimated" a battaliondespite sporadic bombardment by enemy field guns. On the east-central front, the American Second and Seventh Divisions and the Republic of Korea Fifth and Seventh Divisions were hacking away at enemy positions.

50,000 YEARS OLD, 2 INCHES TALL

BELIEVED ABOUT 50,000 years old, two Indian lotus seeds found in Manchuria have been "hatched" by Washington horticulturalists of National Capital Parks and now boast tender green shoots 2 and 11/2 inches in length, respectively. About the size of olive pits, the seeds were filed to make them more sensitive to water. They germinated in five to seven days. They were presented to the agency by Dr. Ralph W. Chaney, University of California paleontologist. (International)

Welcome Sign Is Pulled Down For Polish Liner Batory

NEW YORK, March 10.—(INS) -New York City has pulled down the welcome sign as concerns the travel more than 90,000 miles.

First the French line said the Batory could no longer use its pier after March 30 because of its own increasing traffic. Then New York Commissioner of Marine and Aviation Edward F. Cavanagh, Jr., said the liner could not use city-owned piers and was unwelcome in the harbor that he did not think the Senate would be "scared" by the House GOP move.

The Batory has been the only ship from an Iron Curtain country docking regularly in New

Rayburn said of the Republican idea for a draft amendment: "I don't think the House of Representatives will go that far.

In addition to lowering the minimum draft age from 19 to 18 the legislation also lengthens the period of service from 21 to 24 months. The bill carries no expiration date and is thus a long-range program. The president or Con-gress could put UMT into effect bill directs that 18-year-old men bushels per acre when seed power-planted in 40-inch rows.

18-YEAR-OLDS IN HOUSE the 24 months of service and training can be cut down to a minimum of four months of training only.

To Obtain Replacements The draft provision is aimed at making it possible for the armed forces to build up to 3.462 million men and obtain replacements for war-weary men in Korea. The UMT section has the longrange objective of giving the country a trained reserve. Upon brought an extra 37 bushels of corn discharge trainees would go into valued at $46 in Nebraska tests the reserves for a period to make their total service eight years. The House Armed Services committee is expected to approve its draft-UMT bill early next week. It has a bill making 18 and one-half UMT would in time replace selective service under the Senate the minimum draft age.

Witness Says He Gave Secrets About A-Bomb

NEW YORK, March 10-(INS) America's first atomic spy trial before a jury ended its first week on a note of drama sounded by a former army sergeant who testified he gave secret atomic information to his brother-in-law. one of the three defendants.

The witness, David Greenglass, 29, is himself a confessed A-bomb spy and is awaiting sentence. If the jury eventually believes the testimony of Greenglass, it could result in the electric chair for his sister, Ethel, her engineer husband Julius Rosenberg, and radar expert Martin Sobell.

Declares Mosquitos So Dumb They'll Try To Eat Billiard Balls

CHICAGO, Mar. 10.-(INS)-Canadian Zoology professor took a swat at insect intelligence with the claim that mosquitoes are so dumb they will try to eat billiard balls.

In a stinging summary of two years of research in the Labrador Tundra, he added that the pests also try to eat tables, chairs and clothing dummies. Dr. A. W. A. Brown of the University of Western Ontario also told the American Mosquito Control Association in Chicago that "skeeters" are conservative and are 100 times more attractive to a man wearing a black shirt than a man dressed in white.

Tests with the clothing dummies also showed that mosquitoes do not like shiny goods like satin and have no use for nylon. Nevertheless, the scientist added, the insects attacked the dummies at an average rate of 200 a minute. He added:

"The dummies were more attractive to them than I was." Other research indicated the mosquitoes prefer people who are perspiring, are attracted by the carbon dioxide in human breath—but don't like alcohol or chloro-

News Bries From City Hall

NEW CASTLE, PA., NEWS, SATURDAY, MARCH 10, 1951 -

For the first time in years, the city of New Castle has not had to borrow money from a local bank to pay current expenses until sufficient taxes were paid to meet the city's obligations. Some time ago, council authorized Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland to borrow an amount, up to $50,-000, but so far he has not been required to borrow the money. Studebaker concern has delivered a new coupe to the city streets department, for the use of Commissioner Joseph O'Leary. Whether or not to buy a grader for the streets department will be one of the problems which will come before city council in their Monday meeting. It is said the present grader cannot be repaired.

It is anticipated that licensing of bicycles will occur earlier than usual this year. Last year many bicycles were not inspected or licensed because so many children accompanied their parents on vacations. It is estimated several hundred bicycles were not licensed. There are about 2.000 here. Sixteen hundred licenses were issued in 1950, at a cost of 50 cents each.

TKO Rout Over Bob Satterfield Third Victory For Lane In Garden

Layne Wins By

NEW YORK, March 10 .- (INS) -Rex Layne, clumsy but lethal Lewiston, Utah, larruper, moved a step higher in the heavyweight rankings today on the strength of a surprising eight round TKO of Chicago's Bob Satterfield. The 22-year-old ex-paratroope was down for an eight count in the first round and looked like a novice at times against Satter field's bobbing and weaving style before he pulled the TKO out of the hat in last night's scheduled 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Referee Stops It Rex jolted Satterfield with a nard right to the jaw at close quarters in the eighth and sent im down with another right under the heart.

Bob struggled up at the count of

Probably by pure coincidence, the name of one of the seven grand jury witnesses recommended for further investigation and possible prosecution for perjury has been called as a juror for next week's term of criminal court.

The witness, Anthony D. Ross, was before the court in September 1950 and paid a fine and costs after pleading nolle contendere to a numbers writing charge. He was called by the grand jury as a witness in some of the 14 racket cases heard but the jury seemed rather skeptical as to his veracity

CALLING CARDS

"I would like to have some calling cards made. Do you think 'Mr. and Mrs.' or separate cards would be more useful to people in our middle-class circumstances? Also tell me the proper use of both joint cards and 'Mrs.' only. I am a bride and a little confused on the 'card' idea.'

Answer: Twenty-five to 30 years ago, card leaving was a "must" which reason every matron in almost any social set had both separate "Mrs." and joint cards, ing them. Card-leaving is now nearly an obsolete custom.

Naturally, cards are always used for certain necessary purposes

But, today, even people of high so cial standing have little use for calling cards. Of course, cards are always used when sending wedding gifts, making the few required formal calls and they may be used as invitations by a hostess giving a luncheon, a tea, a bridge SUNDAY SERVICES or other afternoon function. In Methodist—Corner of Main and burch streets, Rev. J. B. Palmer, should be used. For all of these purposes, "informals" may be sub-stituted, if the hostess does not have separate cards. If you intend to have engraved only one type of card, I suggest a "Mrs." rather than "Mr. and Mrs." since there are times when "Mr is not to be included. When sending a joint gift, it is entirely correct to enclose the separate cards of man and wife when they have no joint card. Always remember that a wife's separate cards must have exactly the same name thereon as her husband. For instance, if his cards read "J. Willson Jones" hers must First Baptist—Chewton Heights.
